Visiting London

A: We're from Australia. It's our first time in London. We arrived a week ago, and I think we know London pretty well already.

B: Nah, not really - we know the tourists's spots. London's a huge city - we only know the centre.

A: Well, we thought a bus tour was the best way to start, so we took a tour of all the best-known landmarks. It was called The Big Bus Tour. It was open top, and we sat upstairs and ...

B: It didn't rain thank goodness, but it was cold on top of that bus.

A: Yeah, but we saw so much - it was amazing. We saw all these places that you know about from pictures and on TV and in the movies.

We began at Piccadilly Circus and ...

B: Yeah, the Statue of Eros was a lot smaller than I thought.

A: Yeah it was, but I thought it was cute. There were lots of people sitting round it on the steps. You know they say if you stand in Piccadilly Circus long enough, you'll meet nearly everyone you ever knew.

B: I don't believe that ...

A: Well, that's what they say. Next stop was Trafalgar Square - Nelson's Column was as big as I expected.

B: Yeah, it was. Lots of people sitting round there too.

A: And I loved the drive down the Mall to Buckingham Palace. But the flag wasn't up, so we knew the Queen wasn't there.

B: She was probably in one of her other palaces. I think she has a few.

A: I liked Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament. Big Ben was big, and it was striking eleven when we drove past. What did you think of Big Ben?

B: Yeah, good. But I liked the London Eye more. It's right by the river there. We're going on it tomorrow.

A: You get the best views in London from the Eye.

B: I read that, and I also read that 4 million people a year go on it. It's the most popular tourist attraction.

A: Really? More popular than the museums and galleries?

B: Yup.

A: But do you know what I liked best?

B: Seeing Westminster Abbey where Prince William and Kate married?

A: That was interesting, but best for me are the parks. We have a Hyde Park in Sydney, Australia, and I love the one in London too. There are parks everywhere, so when you just can't walk another step seeing the sights, you can sit down on a bench or some grass in the park.

B: Well, you can if it's not raining. Yeah, I liked the parks too.

There are enough things to do in London to fill a lifetime. As the great English writer Samuel Johnson said, 'When a man is tired of London, he is tired of life.' Here are just three suggestions.

The London Eye is the most popular tourist attraction in the UK. It attracts 3.5 million visitors a year. It's on the south bank of the River Thames. At 135 m, it is the tallest big wheel in Europe, and it provides the best views of the city. You can see the Houses of Parliament and St. Paul's Cathedral at your feet, and Windsor Castle to the west, 40 km away. The wheel rotates at a speed of 26 cm per second (about 0.9 km/h). It doesn't stop to take on passengers, but don't worry - it moves slowly enough to allow people to walk on and off. One trip takes about half an hour. It costs about £16 for an adult and £8.50 for a child. People have parties on it. Some people even get married on it!

The British museum is situated in Bloomsbury, just north of the centre. It has the biggest collection of ancient Egyptian, Roman and Greek artefacts in the world. Here you can see the Rosetta Stone, made over 2,200 years ago, which provided the key to the understanding of Egyptian hieroglyphs, and the marble friezes from the Parthenon in Greece, known as the Elgin Marbles.

It is best to see the museum over several visits, rather than trying to see too much at once. The most amazing thing about the museum is that it is FREE!

Regent's park is just to the north of Oxford Street. It isn't London's biggest open space - Hyde Park is - but it is the most beautiful formal park and provides a huge range of attractions. The flower beds are in bloom all year round, and the rose garden (with 30,000 roses!) is filled with colour and perfume in the summer months.

There are ponds with ducks, a boating lake, cafes and restaurants, tennis courts, running tracks, and playing fields for football, baseball, and kite flying. There is also London Zoo and the wonderful open-air theatre, which has plays for all ages between May and October. There really is something for everyone!
